Individual differences in second language learning and teaching II:
The individual and the context

Konin, October 8th-10th, 2018

CALL FOR PAPERS

THEME

The second conference on the role of individual differences in second language learning and teaching focuses in particular on the interactions between different individual difference factors, both within the individual and with contextual variables, such as the learning situation, the type of task, or the pedagogical options employed. The event will be of relevance and significance not only to academics, researchers, teacher educators, and materials writers, but also to language teachers wishing to enhance their instructional practices.

ORGANIZERS

The event will be organized by the Faculty of Philology, State University of Applied Sciences, Konin, Poland, the Department of English Studies, Faculty of Pedagogy and Fine Arts, Adam Mickiewicz University, Kalisz, Poland, and the Faculty of Philology, University of Opole, Poland. Chair of the Organizing Committee is prof. Mirosław Pawlak (pawlakmi@amu.edu.pl).

PLENARY SPEAKERS

The following scholars have agreed to participate in the conference and deliver plenary talks:

- Robert DeKeyser (University of Maryland)
- Terry Lamb (University of Westminster)
- James Lantolf (Pennsylvania State University)
- Luke Plonsky (Northern Arizona University)
- Pavel Trofimovich (Concordia University)

ABSTRACT SUBMISSION

We welcome contributions related to the theme of the conference in the form of papers (20 minutes + 10 minutes for discussion), workshops (60 minutes), or posters which could, among other things, focus on the following areas:

- the role of biological and cognitive factors (e.g., age, aptitude, working memory);
- the contribution of affective variables (e.g., motivation, anxiety, WTC);
- different dimensions of the self in second language learning;
- beliefs about different aspects of language learning and teaching;
- learning styles and second language learning;
- socioeconomic factors and success in language learning;
- the role of identity in second language learning;
- individual differences and interaction;
- individual factors and the effectiveness of instructional practices;
- individual differences and new technologies;
- interfaces between different individual difference variables;
- the dynamic nature of individual variation in language learning;
- teaching learners with special educational needs;
- individual differences and teacher education;
- reconciling learner and teacher characteristics in the classroom;
- methodology of research into individual learner differences.

Abstracts of papers and workshops in the range of 250-300 words should be submitted by e-mail to IDsKonin2018@gmail.com by June 10th, 2018. The proposals should include the title, name, affiliation, e-mail address, and a short biographical note, about 60-80 words in length. Notifications of acceptance will be sent by June 30th, 2018.

PUBLICATION OF PAPERS

After the conference selected papers will be published in a peer-reviewed volume or the journals Studies in Second Language Learning and Teaching or Konin Language Studies. Further information concerning the publication as well as the submission guidelines will be sent after the conference.

VENUE

The venue for the event will be the Conference Center of State University of Applied Sciences in Konin, Poland, at 4 Popiełuszki St., where all the plenary and parallel sessions will be held, and meals and refreshments will be served.
