

Conference at the Department of Translation Studies and Lexicography

On 18-19 October 2018, Department of Translation Studies and Lexicography at the Institute of English at the University of Opole organized a conference “Equivalence in texts, dictionaries and lexical databases”. The conference was devoted to broadest aspects of equivalence and their influence on the theory and practice of translation, bilingual lexicography, corpora, and many other. The presentations delivered throughout the conference focused on equivalence in texts (literary, specialist, etc.), equivalence in historical and contemporary dictionaries and equivalence in language corpora and lexical databases. The plenary lectures were delivered by Prof. Tadeusz Piotrowski (Wrocław) and Prof. Vladimír Benko (Bratislava). We are planning to hold similar specialized conferences, focusing on topics relevant to translation studies and lexicography, in the near future.

